Magazine

Principal's Page

It gives me great pleasure to welcome you to our 2006 School Magazine. A lot of hard work has been put into producing this project and I would like to thank the magazine committee (Georgia McNair, Tracy Kerridge and Jen Ditchfield) and the staff for their work in compiling and producing this magazine. I would particularly like to thank all of our wonderful students for their efforts throughout the year and I hope that this publication provides a great reminder of many of the great things that have happened during 2006.

This year has been a very busy one with many highlights. The concert was once again a wonderful success and I would like to thank the students and staff for their hard work which made it an event to remember. We have so many talented students, particularly in the field of performing arts.

I would also like to express my gratitude to the Parents' Club for their work in organising and running some great social events during the year, especially the Ten Pin Bowling Night and the Trivia Night. Both events were hugely successful.

In 2008 we will be celebrating 100 years of education at The Lake School. I would like to invite all the students, families and staff who will be leaving us this year, to return in 2008 to celebrate this great event with us.

I wish you all a Merry Christmas, a Happy New Year and may your memories of The Lake School be fond and remain with you throughout your lives.

"You can take the boy out of The Lake School but you can't take The Lake School out of the boy!"

School Council President's Report

Having come to the end of 2006, it is time to reflect on the year and what, as parents, we have achieved for our children. Currently the council consists of nine parents and three teachers. The reason we join the School Council is to show an interest in our children's education and for the continued development of the school.

Not only does the school council work at maintaining and improving the school buildings and grounds, we have also been revising and writing new policies. We have also been working on the development of a 10 year plan for the school.

Council has applied for a $100 000 grant for building improvements, which if successful, will be used for a multi-purpose room. This will be utilised by students during the day and also by the students in After School Care.

As President, I wish our Grade 6 students and other departing students all the best and thank you for your involvement and contribution at The Lake. I would like to thank the School Councillors for their time, hard work and support this year and look forward to a dynamic 2007.

Angela Rix
School Council President

PARENTS' CLUB 2006

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the Parents' Club Executive and all parents for their participation, help and support with all of the Parents' Club fundraising activities this year.

It was pleasing to see the benefits of our efforts from last year put to use with the football team proudly wearing the new football jumpers and our new high jump mat being used at the Cluster and House Sports Day.

I was extremely thrilled with the results of our very successful Trivia Night, and trust that everyone who participated and attended the evening remembers the wonderful atmosphere created on the night by our school community and its friends.

Our achievements for 2006 have been as follows:

- Food days – this year we held food days every second Wednesday and were able to introduce a few new items to our menu. We also had a few new faces—our Dads; the children loved seeing them as helpers on the food days. From discussions I have had with the Dads, they have commented on the pleasure (sometimes stress) in being able to participate and I am hopeful to continue with more Dads being involved in 2007.
- Easter Raffle
- Ten Pin Bowling Night
- Chocolate fundraiser
- Lorraine Lea Linen Party
- Mothers' Day Raffle and Stall
- Fathers' Day Raffle and Stall
- Christmas catalogue flyer
- Christmas raffle

By the year's end we will have raised more than $5,000.00 which is a wonderful effort. This doesn't include the $5,000.00 that was raised from the trivia night.

We have not yet spent our funds as we are hopeful of making a significant contribution towards the multipurpose room should we be successful with our grant application to the Government. We will however, provide the Grade 6 students with inscribed biros as our thank you for their contribution, as students, towards our School.

I am very proud to be a part of our School and thank you for your support and wish Parents' Club continued success for 2007.

Grade Two Highlights From 2006

I really loved the school disco. I loved dancing with Braiden. Chelsea, Braiden and I won the dancing competition. It was one of the best days of my life.
Lauren

One of the best things that happened to me this year was when I won a medal at the Cluster Sports Day. I was so proud of myself. I also won a medal at our school cross country.
Braiden

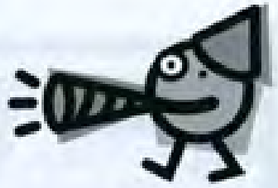
We went to The Fun Jungle for a treat. It was fantastic. We loved it. We had the best time.
Brock

My favourite part of 2006 was when my dad came into our grade to see some of our plays. When we did our plays I felt nervous. My dad laughed when Jai got knocked down. We had yummy fairytale food (poison apples from Snow White, fairy bread from The Fairy Godmother, treats for Grandma from Little Red Riding Hood, bean dip from Jack and the Beanstalk, little sausage rolls from the 7 dwarves and some delicious punch). I read the book I made to my dad. He loved my story. I loved acting. My dad also liked The Three Little Pigs and The Three Billy Goats Gruff. My dad had a great time and so did I.
Indiana Mulder

We loved when our parents, family and friends watched our special plays. Everyone laughed at Abe because he was sooooooooo good as The Big Bad Wolf. Abe's mum laughed so much that she had tears in her eyes. We were all so good that the audience clapped loudly for us.
Abe, Dalton and Lachie

I loved it when our grade went to Park for Play. It was a fantastic day. We had lots of fun. Michael and I went in the maze. We both got a bit lost.
Lachlan

I loved it when we went to The Fun Jungle for our good behaviour. I also loved it when we performed fairytales for our parents in our grade. I was a great troll and Abe was an amazing wolf. It was excellent.
Jai



We loved going bird watching. We walked down to the lake with Mr Mac and Mrs D. My grandparents (Mr and Mrs Rix) came with us. They are great with birds. Brock got his foot stuck in the mud and his shoe fell off. We loved it.
Chelsea and Alysha

I loved our bird walk. We walked all the way down to the lake to the bird observatory. We saw different birds. It was lots of fun.
Gabe

We loved the school concert. It was MAGNIFICENT. We had a great time at the Arts Centre. We were all nervous but we enjoyed it. Every-body looked great and did an excellent job.
Chelsea and Alysha

My favourite thing in 2006 was when I got two firsts in The Mildura Show. I went to The Mildura Show and saw my show entries. I got a first for my papier mache witch and for my decorated parcel.
Isabella

I loved when we went swimming at Club Aquarius. It was relaxing and good to get wet. The bus trip was fun.
Ethan Parker

My favourite thing about my work this year was when it went in the Special Forever Book. It was picked out of thousands of entries.
Michael

On November the 1st the Alpha Children's Theatre performed The Hunchback of Notre Dame at The Merbein Activity Centre. It was great! We loved the awesome sword fight. Abe wanted to scream out, "Go Quasimodo". It was so romantic when they kissed at the end. We all loved it!

THE CONCERT

On the 6.10.06 we had our school concert and our song was from the 80's. It was so cool. The boys playing the guitars were the best, because I was in it. Matt was in Land Down Under. It was funny because he had his t-shirt back to front and inside out. Matt was a star. The boys were the best.
JAKE BESGROVE

On the 6/10/2006 it was The Lake P8 annual school concert. The songs I performed in were " Lets Groove Tonight, Spin Me Round, Girls Just Wanna Have Fun, Land Down Under and Can You Feel It" A month before the concert we had dance lessons with Tanya Knightly. She did a great job getting us ready. Most of the girls were wearing T-shirts, leggings and skirts. It looked good. At the start and at the end of the concert the whole school performed We Will Rock You. The Preps performed Wiggles, Grade Ones performed Elvis, Grade Twos performed Nut Bush, YMCA and Car Wash, Grade Fives did Mickey, Kiss and ACDC and Grade Six did Barbie Girl, These Boots Are Made For Walking and We Are The Champions.

On Friday 6/10/06 was The Lake School concert. It was so much fun. The opening songs were We Will Rock You and the national anthem. Then it was the Grade Five's turn; they performed Mickey and A Long Way To The Top. Then they performed KISS. The Grade Six students performed Barbie Girl, These Boots Are Made For Walking and We Are The Champions. After that the whole school was on stage singing. In between the class performances there were some people playing guitars and singing. Justin, Rhys, Nathan Moseley, Jack and Zack were playing guitars and Felix was playing the drums. Nathan Shaw was supposed to play the drums but he went to Horsham because his brother had to play basketball. The Curran family performed; Oscar was playing the guitar, Felix was playing the drums, their little sister was shaking something and their mum was singing. My Mum and Dad, Grandma and Pa were in the front row. Our theme was the Eighties. For our costumes we had to dress up like the Eighties. My Mum gave me a mullet and some jeans and a flower shirt. I think the school concert was fun.

Mr Bell dropped it, but the egg didn't make it. Our experiment's name was Bozzis & Sim's Ultimate Egg-a-size. Kye and Trent won both rounds. I felt good for them, but Maria Chiara and I were a bit sad about ours.
Amanda Simmons.

On Wednesday the 13th of April Courtney and I made a rocket. Mr Bell put an egg into it and dropped it off a ladder. In the second round Rayleigh's broke. Kane, Stephanie, Trent and Kye all went into the grand final. Kane and Stephanie's broke so Trent and Kye's won. It was fun. I was eggcited!

Grade 5 went to Lake Cullulleraine for their camp. We travelled out on a minibus and arrived at about 10 o'clock. We unloaded all our gear and went into the dormitories and chose our bunks.
We were in teams called Pranksters, Rascals and Scallywags. We earned points for our teams throughout the week. We made new friends with the Grade 5s from Werrimull and Nangiloc-Colignan.

We did fun activities and everyone had a great time. The most popular activity was canoeing. We learnt how to get in and out of a canoe safely, how to use the paddle properly and how to raft up. We always wore a PFD and shoes when we were in the canoes.

We went bike riding and swimming, painted t-shirts, learnt how to use a compass in orienteering, and solved puzzles on the Magical Mystery Tour.

At night we had a Quiz night, in-door games, a concert, a disco and a night walk. It was great.

Buddies

This year the Grade 5s participated in many exciting activities with their Prep buddies. Some of our themes for the year included Pirates, Teddy Bears, The Show and Toys. Everyone especially enjoyed the Teddy Bears Picnic and the Pirate Party.

SCHOOL CAPTAINS

INGRID BERGENS—CAPTAIN

I wanted to be School Captain because it would be a good opportunity for me to represent The Lake School. I have been on the Junior School Council for one year and at The Lake School for three years. Since I've been School Captain I have thanked people for coming to the school, made speeches, announcements and congratulated people. I have been a good role model to others in how to represent the school. Being a School Captain means that I represent the school and I am looked up to by other students. I will always remember this school when I leave; I've really enjoyed being a school leader. This leadership role has taught me to be confident when speaking in front of people and has been a great experience for me.

JAMES HERBERTE—CAPTAIN

The reason that I wanted to be a School Captain was to accept the responsibility of being a leader. It's hard to be a School Captain sometimes but it has always been fun. There can be a bit of pressure dumped on you sometimes and it can be a bit embarrassing. I have to welcome people to the school, represent the school at various events and I even get to draw raffles. If you want to be a School Captain in the future, go for it. You'll enjoy the experience.

Kirsten Rowett—Vice Captain

This year I was chosen to be School Vice Captain. In my role I have attended Junior School Council meetings where we discussed things like fundraisers and activities for the students to do. Being a Captain means that I respect the school and all the teachers and students in it. It also means that I get to be a role model to all the little kids. It is also a good opportunity to practice making speeches and talking in front of large groups of people. I have really enjoyed being School Vice Captain in 2006.

Zac Hornsby—Vice Captain

This year I was picked to be a School Vice Captain. I have always wanted to be a school leader ever since I was little. I wanted to be the School Vice Captain so I could help the little kids in making decisions about what is right and wrong. During the year we had Junior School Council meetings and we discussed all the problems around school and we worked them out. We also discussed dress up days, fundraisers and things like Book Day. I loved being The Lake School Vice Captain. It has taught me how to be loyal to people, both older and younger, than me.

THE LAKE SCHOOL SPORTS
On Thursday the 7th of September The Lake School had their school sports. When the bell went our grade went inside and Mr Probert marked the roll. Then we went outside to the oval and we got put into groups. All the groups went to one activity and then we went to a different activity until it was playtime. After a little play we did some more activities until it was lunch time. After that we did about two more activities and then we went inside to clean up because it was the end of the day.

Special Forever

Once again, a number of students participated in the Special Forever project. Special Forever is an environmental communications project for primary schools in the Murray-Darling Basin. Every year approximately 20,000 students participate in Special Forever learning about the unique environment that makes up their local area and the Murray-Darling Basin as a whole. Writing and artwork produced by students is displayed locally (at The Mildura Arts Centre and The Mildura Show) and at a regional level, and may be selected for publication on the project website or in the annual Special Forever anthology. Here is just some of the wonderful work produced by The Lake School children this year:

A Frill Neck's Story

One day I was sitting on a rock minding my own business when along came the biggest meanest thing I've ever seen. My mates have warned me of these monstrous things. They say they're called humans. The human closed the distance between us. I spread out my frill. It stopped... then came at me again. It was holding a cage in what my mates said was called a hand. I turned to run, but I was too slow and was captured. Now I live in a prison at a place where people come to see me each day. I get fed stomach turning food that I pretend to like. I have learnt that not all humans are like this. Some are big, some are small, some are mean and some are nice.

All you nice humans out there help save the Australian wild life and don't capture us for the fun of it!

My Special Place

My special place is the bush near my house. I ride my push bike and my motorbike on the cool jumps there. The jumps are made out of mud, dry crusher dust and slippery dirt. I always have a good time when I'm there. I will never forget my special place.

My Mum and Dad

I love my Mum and Dad. They are very special. They help me when I have a sore throat (just like I have now). They tell me to drink lots of water and they buy me yummy cough lollies. They look after me when I am sick or hurt. I really love my Mum and Dad.

Ants

It's hard work being an ant. People stepping on you and wrecking your home is the worst thing ever. How would you like it if you came home and your house was wrecked? But the bit I hate the most about people is when they put hot water down the entrance hole and burn you! The other day a person was in the way so I ran up and took a big bite (it tasted horrible). Then the mean person hit me! I broke my leg so that's why I'm here today at the ant hospital writing this story. So don't you go squashing any of my friends!

Congratulations to Michael, Pia, Sophie, Isabella, Alysha Gebhart and Indiana Mulder who had their work sent to Sydney for possible inclusion in this year's anthology (which is a fantastic effort considering only 30 pieces of artwork and writing is selected regionally)

An even bigger congratulations to Michael Coppola in Grade 2. His work titled "My Special Place" was selected for inclusion in the 2006 Special Forever anthology.

SOME GREAT STORIES BY OUR STUDENTS:

PREP

Water Leak

By Indianna Robertson

Once upon a time there was a tap that leaked and leaked all day.
It was my first day of school. I was all ready. I went to school and I had lots of fun. I met 20 new friends and then at the end of the day I went home with my best friend Sarah. I went to get some popcorn, ice-cream, strawberries and orange juice for us to eat. I saw the tap leaking and I yelled, "It is a flood!" My friend Sarah came in and I said "Follow me!" We were very afraid but we made it out. I'll never forget that day!

The Show

By Cameron Chiswell

The show is on and it is near my Nan's house. I am going on the haunted house and I am going to eat before the ride. I am going on all the scary rides, not the dumb rides. The only easy ride I am going on is the Ferris wheel. It goes around in circles and it goes up really high. I might see some of my friends at the show.

Laura the Dinosaur

By Hayley Moore

Once upon a time there lived a dinosaur called Laura. She had a best friend called Sarah. They loved playing together. They played chase together all the time. One day Laura didn't know where her best friend was. She looked and looked and looked for Sarah. Laura went to see her mum and told her she couldn't find Sarah. They went to find her together. Then it was night time. In the morning there was her best friend Sarah! "Sarah where were you?!" said Laura, "We were looking everywhere for you!"
"I went to visit my Nan for two sleeps!" said Sarah.
Sarah and Laura went to play chase again. They ate dragonflies and had lots of fun.
Just then a big T- Rex came along. "The T-Rex is going to get you, AAAAH!" said Sarah. They ran away from the T-Rex. "We lost it!" said Laura. "No we didn't !" said Laura, "Here it comes again, RUN!" "I can't," said Sarah "He's got me on the leg." Laura quickly bit the T-Rex on his leg.
"OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOHHHHHHH!" said the T- Rex as he jumped up and down. Sarah and Laura quickly ran home, they were very lucky to escape the T-Rex!

The Space Adventure

Once there was a boy called Dalton who had a friend who was a girl. Her name was Loz. They went into outer space. They were the first boy and girl on the planet Jupiter. Dalton was 33 years old and Loz was 32 years old. One day Dalton got sucked into a big hole and disappeared. Loz was very sad. Loz was so sad she went back to Earth in her spaceship. She didn't expect to see Dalton again.
While she was flying back to Earth, the big hole that sucked Dalton up, spat him out outside his house in Mildura. Loz couldn't believe it when she got home and saw that Dalton had beaten her home! They lived happily ever after.

Jess and Dean's Holiday

One day a teenager called Jess was walking along the beach with her boyfriend called Dean. They loved each other. Then Jess said to Dean, "I hope we win the holiday competition you entered".
"Hey," said Dean, "Isn't the draw tonight?"
"Yes, it is," said Jess. "We'd better hurry up".
"We'll just get takeaway instead of going to a restaurant," said Dean.
"OK", said Jess.
So they went to McDonalds. Then they ran back home, turned on the TV and crossed their fingers. Then the man on the TV said "AND...the winners are... Dean Richy and Jess Rix!!!"
The very next day they were on their way to Hawaii.

Pamela and Kirsten

One day there were two girls. Their names were Pamela and Kirsten. Pamela had a cat named Katie and a dog named Destiny. Kirsten had a cat named Danica and a dog named Keisha. Pam and Kirsten loved going shopping and they loved buying clothes for their pets. One day they were eating breakfast and watching TV when they saw an add which said that Centro was having a huge sale, so they ate their breakfast and got dressed as fast as they could. When they were ready to go Kirsten said, "Come on, let's go." But Pam said, "I cannot find the car keys." So after about 30 minutes of looking for the car keys they were ready to go. When they got to Centro, Pam and Kirsten saw their friends Chana and Chelsea. They said that they were going to have a party and it was a sleep over. Pam and Kirsten said they would go. Pam and Kirsten now had a reason to go shopping. They were going to buy some new clothes and jewellery for the party. First they went to Supre. Pam bought a singlet top, which was hot pink ,and a white skirt. Kirsten got an orange singlet top and some denim three quarter jeans. Next they went to Equip and they nearly brought the whole shop. Luckily they had taken their dads' credit cards. Then it was time for lunch so Pam and Kirsten went to the food court. Pam got a Meat Lovers pizza and Kirsten got a Ham and Pineapple pizza. After lunch they went to get their hair done. Pam got blonde foils in her hair and Kirsten got brown. Next Pam and Kirsten got their nails done. Pam got her nails done (hot pink tips with stars in the corners). Kirsten got light pink sparkly tips. Then Pam and Kirsten went to Gold Mark and bought a whole lot of jewellery. By now they had done too much shopping and it was time to go home, besides the shops were closing. When Pam and Kirsten got home they plonked down on the couch and fell asleep.

Some way.....

Cassie ran down the long twisting hall, with absolutely no idea where she was going. She was trapped in her own mind with no means of escape. She turned a sharp corner and felt the floor beneath her feet vanish. She screamed with nobody to hear. Her fingernails scraping bare air, scratching for something to hold. She was making frantic hand movements when her fingers hit the edge of the hole. She grabbed on clinging for her life. She screamed and screamed. Suddenly she heard a cold, high laugh and she fell screaming into the bottomless pit.

Cassie woke with a start on the floor beside her bed, her large, deep blue eyes wide with fear from her dream. She was cold and sweaty. She lay panting on the floor. One arm seared with pain. She sat up in her twisted doona and rubbed her legs. The cold, wooden floor, which she was lying on felt relieving against her sweaty legs. "It was only a dream." She told herself. But when was she going to believe it? She had had the same nightmare of twisted corridors and bottomless pits for a while now and now her arms and legs were covered in scratches and bruises from continually falling out of bed. She often heard screams of help, down the end of the corridor, behind the door…

Cassie shook her head. And told herself over and over again that it was a horrible nightmare, but when was it going to stop?

"I had that dream last night again," Cassie told her friends in what she hoped was a casual voice as she sat up in the tree. "You know, the one with the corridor and stuff?" She had purposely forgotten to tell her friends about the screaming, that bit she just wanted to keep to herself. Tania turned around and looked up at her with an expression of concern on her face. Cassie's stomach gave a lurch. Finally, someone understood her worries. "Are you sure you're feeling alright. I mean, getting worked up over a little dre…." She cut off at the expression on Cassie's face. "You don't understand," she snapped angrily. "You guys break it up." Kiarla called from the base of the tree. "Why do you guys always argue?" she added. Cassie turned away fuming with anger. Kelsey was watching with mild interest from the second branch. "Guys, really, it's so, so…." "Real," she muttered as her friends turned their backs on her to talk about their views of the new shop that had opened.

Cassie felt a stab of pain as she watched her friends gossip. Why? Why me? She turned her face so they couldn't see the tears in her eyes. For once in her life she was glad to hear the bell ring. She hurriedly jumped down from the tree and walked off leaving her friends walking slowly behind her. As soon as she reached the classroom she knew something was wrong. The buzz of excitement around the teacher's desk was eerie. The noise of screams and groans of pain and cries were scary. She walked over to the desk to see Richard Matheson a boy in her grade, screaming with agony lying on the floor in front of many panic stricken faces. Cassie pushed her way to the front and saw immediately why he was screaming. There was a pair of fang marks on his ankle, yet nobody seemed to want to do anything. She rushed forward and knelt down beside him. "What happened?!" she gasped holding the stitch in her side. She rummaged through her school bag. "Snake… Big…. King brown…." More people burst into tears and walked away. Cassie tossed her mobile to Emma Darsley. "Call triple 0", she ordered as she stripped off her jacket. She tied it in a firm knot above his thigh to stop the poison spreading. She told him to lie still as she grabbed a cricket bat to serve as a splint and tied that firmly to his leg. There was a bang and the classroom door flew open. The paramedics had arrived, followed by a crowd of curious onlookers. Richard's eyes lolled as they hoisted him onto a stretcher and put him into the back of the ambulance and away. Cassie felt a hand on her shoulder and she turned around. It was Tanja. "Come on," she said softly. "Yeah, let's go." Kelsey added gravely.

That night Cassie lay in bed tempted NOT to think about that day's events. It had been confusing enough being asked questions about what happened but then the paramedics reported that it was not a king brown or even a snake. But yet, Cassie's quick actions and serious thinking had saved Richard's life. She was still in total confusion when she got home. Her mum had been nice to her and told her to go to bed when she felt like it, but Cassie still couldn't get Richard's scream out of her head.

She was running down a corridor she needed to get to the door. She turned a sharp corner and felt weights pull on her shoulders dragging her down, slowing her. She fell helplessly to her knees screaming for something to kill her. A cold laugh upturned the silence, followed by a scream.

THUMP!!! She had hit the ground hard and was beside her bed once more. But this time she saw a silver flash and a pair of red eyes disappear out the open window. That was it. She got up and crept out the window and across the frosty grass. She saw the eyes disappear behind the hedge. She followed them. She came to a stop where they had disappeared and saw a set of foot prints. She stood frozen to the spot, she closed her eyes and opened them again. She could prove what she saw. Some way.....

Friends and Friendship by Grade Five

Friends are loyal, nice and friendly. They are always there for you. Friends sometimes have fights but most of the time they never let you down. Best friends have a lot of laughs and good times together.
By Ashlee Dodd

Friendship is when people communicate with each other. Friends sometimes get in fights but they normally become friends again. Friends do things together. Friends share things like toys and secrets.
By Jarrod Simmons

I think friends should be loyal, trustworthy and good to be around. They should be honest and they should stick up for you. If you were to tell them to do something they'd do it. Friends listen to you and friends are friends forever.
By Frazier Mulder

I like friends who I can trust and feel free to tell them anything. I like friends that like to have a fun time, that ring if they want to talk about anything. I like it when they don't disturb me while I'm working or reading. I like friends who like similar things to me. Friends are the best. If we did not have any we would be lonely, bored and sad.
